Skills for Running Virtual Meetings

Your people need to be able to show the same passion and purpose as they would if they were in the room with Clients. We run pre-recorded or virtual workouts for people who need to communicate with Clients over Video Conferencing

Investment

Depends on the size of you business of course, but we've halved the price of our programme prices due to Coronavirus. They begin now at £750 for a team of 10 to 12 people for 3 workshops which is amazing value.

The sessions are proving popular and providing a welcome shot of collaboration and company to teams working from home.

We have 20 Years of experience in delivering many types of smart working, including remote working into Organisations similar to yours. We recognise the questions and uncertainty the subject of non-office based roles raises for businesses. This is why, over the years, we have developed powerful strategies that open mindsets toward adoption of smart working which we are happy to share with you.
