So, what does a personal action plan look like?

We are trained in Harrison Assessments which provides the employee with awareness and clarity around their career specific behavioural fit, emotional intelligence and competencies. We can support them with dealing with life change, help them consider options and plan their next career move effectively.

We introduce participants to the importance of personal brand marketing which gives them the edge in a busy labour market.

We are career coaching practitioners, so our support is 'hands-on', helping the participant to write a winning CV or amending it to optimise impact. We help them to prepare for interviews, advise on job hunting, LinkedIn and the hidden jobs market,

Get in Touch to set up your outplacement and we'll take the weight off your shoulders.
